He provided examples of a notary public that is unable work, as well as other local businesses affected by the mandatory closure. Mr. Peters stated that Lowes, Home Depot, Walmart, and Target are operating and negatively affecting local businesses. He commented that local businesses can maintain social distancing standards and should be able to operate. Mr. Peters stated that businesses had been closed unconstitutionally and rights had been violated by the Governor and Secretary of Health. He commented that Township Supervisors had violated the constitution by closing and in some cases applying restrictions to local fire departments.

Wayne Leshar asked the Commissioners to adopt a resolution today to stand in solidarity with businesses not able to operate. He commented that while he and Commissioner Watson have businesses that have been able to operate, there are many Perry County businesses unable to operate due to the Governor’s mandate. Mr. Leshar stated that the data supports the low number of cases in Perry County. He commented that other counties are supporting their local businesses and that businesses should have the choice to operate and should not be dictated by the government.

Karen Anderson asked if there were any cases of COVID-19 in the Perry County Prison or in local nursing homes. She also questioned if the Commissioners had reached out to the nursing homes to see if there were any positive cases. Ms. Anderson stated that she supported getting local businesses opened but thought having supporting data would be helpful. She also asked if the Commissioners had reached out to surrounding counties to see how many ventilators would be available to Perry County in June and how many ICU beds may be available as well. He also stated that according to the Department of Health there had been 3,600 deaths and the average age was 79 years old. He also stated that 67% of deaths were in nursing facilities and long-term care facilities. He asked that Perry County become a Second Amendment Sanctuary to stop future infringement on this right in times of need. Mr. Shed commented on the lack of an amateur radio system and a repeater. He recommended reestablishing an amateur radio backup system for emergency responders in times of emergency. He stated that he is a free sovereign individual and strongly disagreed with the prior statement and said the state does not have the authority to curtail the Constitution.

Sarah Keller from Senator DiSanto's Office, stated that information on available ventilators, hospital beds, and additional COVID-19 information is available on the Department of Health's website. She also commented that if anyone is in need of assistance finding the information, to contact her office directly.

She stated that the pandemic will further impact the County's financial issue by resulting in a lower tax base and lower tax revenue. Ms. Hammar also commented on the issue from a health perspective. She stated that Perry County has proven that residents care about their health by adhering to social distancing and other guidelines and do not need to be told what to do. She questioned if the Commissioners would stand up for the oath of office they took and stand with the people, or would they stand with the Governor.

Bonnie Cox asked if anyone had lost someone to the flu or COVID-19. She stated that she has five family members affected by the disease, and knows 2 – 3 individuals that passed away due to COVID-19. He said he understood that people are scared, but recommend that those that are scared stay home. Mr. Wright also stated that he has a small business that will most likely close due to the situation. She commented that if having a hospital is one of the criteria for opening up, the County cannot wait for a hospital to be built. Ms. Copenhaver stated that the lack of testing is a government issue, not the business owners in Perry County. She stated that the County needs to move forward. She commented on the 60,000 deaths to the flu and the lack of government intervention. She stated that health precautions do need to be taken, but the County does need to open up and move forward.

He said that part of the oath of office he took was to defend, obey, and protect the citizens of the County legally and that is what he intends to do. Commissioner Eby stated that he would continue to voice issues, along with the General Assembly, which is what is allowed by the State Constitution and the Supreme Court.

Commissioner Allen stated that Senator DiSanto and Representative Keller have gone to bat for the County and they need support from other senators and representatives. He said that if residents reach out to speak with a senator or representative some questions to consider asking include: how much can our County economy stand, what is the point of no return, business owners love their families the same as non-business owners and care for their neighbors. Commissioner Allen stated that phone calls and emails have been made to the Governor, but no reply was received thus far. Commissioner Allen commented that he trusts Perry Countians to make the best decisions for their families and that the County has exceeded the original guidelines set by the Governor and the Department of Health's original matrix.
